

Sinclair Broadcasting's partisan, immoral, illegal decision to force their stations to show the anti-Kerry documentary just before the election is evidence of the great need for strengthening media ownership rules. Corporate greed should never supercede the public interest, and Sinclair's decision is based on corporate greed alone. Sinclair and the FCC should do their jobs and serve the public, not corporate interests.